CONNECT WRITE – 11/14/2019 - MINUTES

1. Thank you for joining today.

Especially if you have driven far, thank you for coming out today.

2. This is a casual, fun group.

We are not going to employ strict rules; everyone is an adult and should know how to treat each other with kindness and respect. We don't have a dress code or a "must read" list, just a community of people with similar goals and aspirations.

3. How long was your drive?

Meg will go around the room and ask each participant how long their drive was, and what part of the city they live in. The goal today is to find a more central location that is convenient for all members.

4. Regular Social Event

We'll meet once a month to discuss social events. At this First Connection, we'll establish the frequency, dates, times, and locations of this recurring event. A weekly get together for coffee, lunch, or dinner is ideal.

5. Ask each other questions!

I encourage you to ask each other about work and writing. We all came together today because we are involved somehow in the Writing Community. Your neighbor likely has something to offer! Ask them!

Please feel free to approach me at any time with questions, comments for improvement, or concerns. Thank you again for coming out today – I hope to see you at the next one!
